1. Purpose

This document defines the recruitment and onboarding procedures followed by Meridian Technologies.

The Recruitment team manages candidate sourcing, screening, interviews, employment offers and coordination of new employee onboarding.

2. Vacancy Approval

A department requiring additional employees must submit a vacancy request to HR.

The request must include:

- Position title and department.
- Required qualifications and skills.
- Employment type.
- Expected joining date.
- Proposed compensation range.
- Reason for hiring.

The department head must approve the vacancy before recruitment begins.

Finance must confirm budget availability when the proposed position creates additional expenditure outside the approved workforce plan.

3. Candidate Screening

The Recruitment team evaluates applications against the approved position requirements.

Screening considers educational qualifications, relevant experience, technical competencies, communication skills and availability.

Candidates satisfying the initial requirements proceed to technical or functional interviews.

Interview feedback must be documented within two working days.

4. Interview and Selection

Interview panels are formed according to the position being filled.

Engineering candidates may be evaluated by Backend Engineering or Frontend Engineering representatives.

Finance candidates are evaluated by relevant Finance personnel.

IT and Security candidates may undergo additional technical assessments.

The final selection must be supported by documented interview feedback and department approval.

5. Employment Offer

Before an employment offer is issued, the Recruitment Lead verifies:

1. Vacancy approval.
2. Interview completion.
3. Compensation approval.
4. Department head confirmation.
5. Availability of the required employment documentation.

The HR Administrator prepares the formal offer after all necessary approvals.

6. Employee Onboarding

After the candidate accepts the offer, the onboarding process begins.

Employment documentation	HR
Employee record	HR

Department and team assignment	HR

Each employee receives a unique organizational user ID.

For example, a fictional employee may have the identifier `USR-00004`.

Department and team memberships must reflect the employee's approved responsibilities.

7. First 30 Days

The onboarding schedule follows four stages:

Period	Activity
Days 1–3	Documentation and policy orientation

Days 4–7	Team introduction and access verification
Days 8–15	Initial assigned tasks
Days 16–30	Supervised work and initial feedback

The reporting manager must confirm that the employee has received the required resources and understands their responsibilities.

8. Failed Joining and Withdrawal

If a candidate declines an offer or fails to join on the agreed date, Recruitment must update the candidate record.

Any accounts or equipment provisioned before joining must be cancelled or handled through the relevant department.

The vacancy may be reopened after department head confirmation.

9. Confidentiality and Access

Candidate resumes, interview feedback, compensation expectations and recruitment decisions are confidential.
